

“Intel® and Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising
Mission Contest 2009”
Terms and Conditions

1. Intel Corporation SAS, a simplified company with shares with capital of EUR 4,572,000, registered with the Register of Trade and Companies of Nanterre under number 302 456 199, having its registered office at 2 rue de Paris, 92196 Meudon Cedex, France, organizes the Web only Game, “Intel® and Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising mission Contest 2009” (the “Competition”), from 2nd November 2009 to 13th December 2009. The game is available on the following website: <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/>. Geographic focused Area: France/ UK/ Germany/ Belgium/ Spain/ USA/ Canada/ Australia/ New Zealand/ Italy/ Netherlands/ Poland/ Sweden/ Finland/ Russia/ Austria.

2. Entry to the Competition implies acceptance of the following Terms and Conditions by each entrant:

The Competition is open, free of charge and without condition of purchase, to any natural person to the exception of employees of Intel Corporation SAS (FR), its subsidiaries and branches and the families of such employees, and, in general, employees of companies involved in the administration of the game.

The Competition will take place from 2nd November 2009 11:00 a.m. GMT to 13th December 2009 05:00 p.m. GMT.

Entrants who do not participate within the abovementioned dates will be excluded for legal purposes. Mission of such entrants will not be accepted after the pre-set deadlines.

Entrants must comply with all the rules set out to this Competition so as to qualify and be in a position to win the offered prizes.

Entrants must be aged 18 years or over or must obtain the consent of their parents or legal guardian.

Participation of the employees of any companies or groups associated with the administration of the game, i.e. Intel, Codemasters, Games-fed, Turtle Entertainment and their families is not authorized.

All national and local laws apply.

3. Entrants must avail themselves to the game Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising in order to participate in the Competition.

Entrants shall install Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising and the default mission editor as included with Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising in order to create their own mission.

Entrants shall not use any other mission editor than the default mission editor as provided with Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising.

4. If needed, Intel Corporation SAS and Codemasters as associated in the website <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/> may require entrants to justify their identities in order to check the accuracy of the personal data they provided.

Intel Corporation SAS and Codemasters, as associated in the website <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/>, reserve the right to exclude from the Competition any person who would use a computer from which the Terms and Conditions thereof would not have been fully respected.

No compensation will be granted for Internet service provider costs incurred during or after the Competition. Entrants shall not receive any direct help whatsoever from any company involved in the administration of the Competition for developing the mission as required for their participation.

5. Stages of the Contest

Intel®-Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising Mission Contest – CALENDAR

1st Stage – Mission Creation Step for Participants

Contest starts on 02.11.2009

The announcement for the contest will be posted on the Intel Game On website, the Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising official website and the Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising mission contest website at the same time.

Participants will have 4 weeks to create their own missions and submit their creations through a dedicated website : <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/> with their own equipment considering the terms indicated on the website.

They will have to follow the submission rules

Deadline: mission submission will close on 29.11.2009

2nd Stage – Intelofpdrcontest community test and vote to select the 12 best Missions

1st round selection starts on 30/11/2009

The missions will be judged based on three criteria: originality, fun and gameplay. Les community members give a 10 points-based rate for each mission. Each member can only vote once for one mission during the competition.

The missions will be available to test on Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising mission contest website.

The Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising mission contest website Community will vote to select the best 12 missions.

The selected 12 missions will be available for download on the Intel Game On website and <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/>

Deadline to determine the 12 missions is 13/12/2009

3rd Stage – Jury votes for best 2 missions out of the 12 selected by the Operation Flashpoint : Dragon Rising Communities

2nd round selection starts on 14/12/2009. The Jury votes following the same criteria as the community.

Only 2 finalists will be selected from the initial selection of 12 missions.

The 2 finalists will get the biggest prizes committed for the contest.

The announcement of the 2 finalists will be posted on the Intel Game On website, the Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising official website, and <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/> at the same time.

Time for announcement is 28/12/2009.

6. Rules of the Contest

Important Note: participants will have to accept the following before entering into the competition.

General Rules :

The entrant can only submit one mission.

The Intel® name must appear in the mission name and the in-game mission description.

The Intel® Core™ i7 name must appear in a mission objective.

Any improper use of the Intel® name or Intel® Core™ i7 name will result in the participant being excluded from the contest.

Only missions for Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising are being accepted.

One unique judging for mission creation will happen.

Any submitted mission needs to be the own creation of each participant.

Assets for the missions creation can be taken from the Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising MISSION editor provided with the full game.

No copyright infringements are allowed.

The competition will run from 02/11/2009 until 13/12/2009.

Multiplayer missions will have to work in LAN and online modes.

Staff Members of Intel, Codemasters, Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising community, Games-fed teams and any other third parties associated with the jury, are not allowed to participate.

Any text used as part of the mission creations needs to be in English language.

Mission Submission Specific Rules

Each mission submission should be done to the Intel® Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising Mission Contest website that would be available at the following address:
<http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/>

Mission submission needs to include the mission files in a zip and a screenshot.

The mission group (defined in the mission editor) must be Intel.

Participants will have to fill the submission form in the <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/> website by filling the following mandatory fields : First name, last name, complete address, zip code, city, state, country, phone number and a valid e-mail address. All personal information and data will only be used for this contest. Any incomplete, unreadable, incomprehensible or faulty form will not be taken in account and will lead to the cancel of the submission.

The participation can only be done via Internet. Any participation by phone, fax, postal mail, or e-mail will not be taken in account.

Database entries for all missions need to have background description (story or mission of the level), in English language only.

The mission must be Cooperative (up to 4 players) or Single Player

The official Intel Mission Contest image (http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/images/contest/intel\_mission\_contest\_logo.jpg) must be defined as the Mission Image

The mission files must be compressed into a ".zip" standard file, normal compression, less than 2Mb and the internal tree structure must be : Intel/mission_name.

Screenshot Submission:

Each participant must deliver 1 screenshot of his/her mission, in the mission upload page.

Screenshot should provide a good insight view of the mission.

Not sending in screenshot results in a removal from the contest.

7. For the purposes of the website <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/>, Intel Corporation SAS and Codemasters assume no responsibility for any difficulty arising out of the use by entrants of their computer, Internet access or phone line, or any other technical issue.

For the purposes of the website <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/>, Intel Corporation SAS and Codemasters are not responsible for missions that have not been received due to data loss or theft, interrupted connections, use of a wrong or incomplete address, or incomplete registration.

In any case, Intel Corporation SAS responsibility may not be involved for the prizes attributed to the contest winners, whether for the quality of the prizes from that announced or expected by entrants or potential harm of any kind due to a prize that their damages are attributable directly or indirectly.

8. The Competition will begin on 2nd November 2009 11:00 a.m. GMT, which is the start for the creation of missions.

All missions as created by entrants shall be uploaded to the dedicated section of the website <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/> by 29th November 2009 05:00 p.m. GMT.

9. The Voting System of the Contest

Final Jury Members

2 Members from Intel

2 Members from Codemasters Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising Team

2 Members from Games Fed

1 Member from Turtle Entertainment

Three Contest Criteria

There is only one global voting system for both jury and community.

It is based on the THREE criteria.

-Originality of Mission

-Creativity in integrating Intel objective

-Fun & game play

The jury rates the mission with the three criteria and gives a final 10 points-based note.

10. The entrant says being the author of the mission with which he participate to the contest, holding rights associated, does not have transferred the right to exploit, either exclusively or non-exclusive to a third party.

The entrant agrees, both in general than particular, to ensure Intel Corporation SAS against any proceeding, claim or action brought on grounds of violations of intellectual property rights of a third part on the mission given to Intel Corporation SAS.

Entrants agree that their mission is broadcasted on the website <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/> without payment, during the contest period and for a month after the publication of results.

Under moral rights the entrant has on his work, the first and last name (or surname and first initial of the name) of each participant will be named on the mission he has sent.

11. The Prizes to Be Committed (Prizes are non-transferable and may not be substituted for cash)

The global prize contains 24 prizes

First Selection: Top 12 Multiplayer missions Winners

1st to 2nd :

- 1 A3 poster signed by the Operation Flashpoint:Dragon Rising development team (indicative retail value : 10 € all taxes included)
- 1 Branded Cap (indicative retail value : 10 € all taxes included)

- 3 games : DiRT 2 / Overlord 2 / FUEL (indicative retail value : 150 € all taxes included)
- 1 Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising t-shirt (indicative retail value : 10 € all taxes included)
- 1 Branded carabineer touch in limited edition packaging ( indicative retail value : 7 € all taxes included)

Global estimated retail value : 187€ all taxes included

3rd au 12th :

- 1 Branded Cap (indicative retail value : 10 € all taxes included)
- 1 Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising t-shirt (indicative retail value : 10 € all taxes included)
- 1 Branded carabineer touch in limited edition packaging ( indicative retail value : 7 € all taxes included)

Global estimated retail value : 27€ all taxes included

Final Selection : Top 2 missions Winners Awarded by Codemasters, Games Fed, Turtle Entertainment and Intel Members

Prizes given to the 2 winners :

1st to 2nd :

- 1 Limited Edition Design by Invasion® Operation Flashpoint® : Dragon Rising desktop PC equipped with Intel®Core™i7-960 processor (indicative retail value : 2,000 € all taxes included)

Prizes given to the other 10 finalists :

3rd to 12th :

- 1 Intel®Core™i7-860 processor (indicative retail value : 200 € TTC).

12. Entrants give prior authorization to the organizers to publish or broadcast their names without any indemnity or compensation whatsoever. Winners will be given notice by email on the nature of their prize and delivery details.

The winners of the Competition will be notified by e-mail within 72 hours following completion. Prize shipping and delivery will occur within 28 days after winners are announced. Intel will not be held responsible in any circumstance for not being able to contact winners due to false, incomplete or incorrect data.

13. Participation to the Competition implies acceptance by the entrants of the Terms and Conditions thereof without restriction or reservation.

Intel Corporation SAS and all the organizers reserve the right to suspend, extend, amend or terminate the Competition if called for by circumstances. They shall not be held responsible as a result.

Intel Corporation SAS and all the organizers shall not be held responsible for technical problems arising on reception of missions from Operation

Flashpoint®: Dragon Rising or their destruction, in whole or in part, or any act of God.

Any mission found to be duplicate or fraudulent by the organizers or the jury will result in the entrants involved being excluded from the Competition.

14. Any difficulty arising from the performance or the interpretation of the Terms and Conditions of the Competition, or that would not be provided for by these Terms and Conditions, shall be decided by the organizers, and the organizers' decision will be final. No claim related to the competition shall be taken into account after the 28th January 2010 11:00 a.m. GMT, one month after the winners' announcement.

15. Any and all prizes offered in this contest are exclusive of any other promotion from the organizers or the sponsors involved in the event.

16. Each entrant is entitled to access, rectify, modify or delete any personal data that he or she has provided. Any personal information will be held in accordance with Intel's Privacy Policy (link to the policy: <http://www3.intel.com/cd/corporate/europe/emea/eng/172055.htm>) and the information is held accordingly.

17. The Terms and Conditions are filed with Maître Stéphane Doniol, Huissier de Justice, sis 2 rue du 8 Mai 1945 - 77410 Claye Souilly (France).

The Terms and Conditions will be available on the website : <http://www.intelofpdrcontest.com/>.

A copy of the Terms and Conditions will be sent, free of charge, to any person requesting them Intel Corporation SAS – Les Montalets – 2 rue de Paris – 92196 Meudon Cedex – France.

Postage expenses will be repaid at the minimum French postage rate (EUR 0.51) on simple request made in the letter requesting a copy of the Terms and Conditions.

18. Intel Corporation SAS reserves the right to modify all or part of this Regulation under a notice of five calendar days. Any amendments will be filing with Stéphane Doniol, bailiff in Claye Souilly (France)..

19. If one or more provisions of these regulations were declared invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will remain in full effect.

All cases not foreseen by the regulations shall be decided by Intel Corporation SAS whose decisions are final. The law applies to this Regulation is French law. Any dispute arising in connection with this transaction will be an attempt at settlement. Failing agreement, the dispute shall be submitted to the courts to which the headquarters of Intel Corporation SAS, unless contrary to public policy. No dispute will not be admissible two months after the close of the competition.